

Psycho-Educational Evaluation

1. Check with your health insurance to see if “psychological testing” is covered. You may need to get a referral from your doctor.
2. Call to compare costs and available appointments. Prices range from $300 - $1800 depending on extensiveness and provider. If you have no means to pay for testing, you may petition this office to have the testing done through the Educational Psych. Dept.
3. Complete testing – aptitude, achievement, processing and rate of reading. Documentation guidelines are available for review at our website: www.dso.ufl.edu/drc.
4. Forward a copy of the report with recommendations to the DRC.
5. Complete intake with the DRC for academic accommodations.

The following are psychiatrists. They do not give the extensive evaluations/testing for specific learning disabilities (SLD). They will diagnose ADD/ADHD. As well as, affective disorders along with writing needed prescriptions, but they do not offer the comprehensive testing services required by Disability Resources for LD, SLD, ADD, or ADHD diagnoses.
